About this piece

Edward William Godwin (attributed) for Collinson and Lock. A fine set of hanging oak wall shelves, 1870s, with turned supports, 102cm high, 100cm wide, 24cm deep See Soros, Susan Weber 'The Secular Furniture of E.W. Godwin', This wall shelf has almost the identical turnings to a drawing room cabinet made by Collinson and Lock, p.209, illus. 333 and also the Florence cabinet, p. 185, illus. 306. It also has the identical lower arched section to a wall shelf in the Collinson and Lock catalogue of 1871 and the same turning on chairs also from that catalogue.
