About this piece

George Washington Jack (1855-1931) for Morris & Co.

A rare and exceptional Arts & Crafts exhibition quality mahogany sideboard, the upper superstructure a three-quarter turned gallery with chevron and string inlays with a lower and upper open shelf surmounted by finely turned finials.

The shaped top with dental moulded details below and a central bowed drawer flanked by inlaid devices and two side drawers with quartets to each corner and conforming inlays, the whole on tapering square legs joined by semi-circular shaped stretchers, typical of George Jack's work.

The legs are identical to his famous Saville armchair and the stretchers are used on various side tables designed by George Jack for Morris & Co.
