About this piece

Liberty & Co., A Moorish corner cabinet

With three open shelves framed by intricate horseshoe arches with delicate scalloped edges, the facade is adorned with fine geometric and floral carvings, complemented by mother-of-pearl inlay forming decorative star motifs.

The piece is crowned with fretwork cresting, enhancing its architectural elegance. Designed to fit snugly into a corner, this cabinet exemplifies the exotic aesthetic of the Moorish Revival period.

Circa 1890. Height 71 1/2", Width at the front 25 1/2", Depth from back corner to front 13".
